Talented Young Musician Will Give a Recital at Woman's Club.

A BEAUTIFUL CELEBRATION

Miss Conway Christian Fleming Host to Number of Friends. Engagements.

Something Great.

The trial was ended, the vigil past, All clad in his arms was the knight at last, The goodliest knight in the whole wide land, With face that shone with a purpose grand, The King looked on him with gracious eyes, And said: "He is meet for some high empire."

To himself he thought: "I will conquer fate, I will surely die or do something great."

So from the palace he rode away, There was trouble and need in the town that day.

A child had strayed from his mother's side Into the woodland dark and wide.

"Help!" cried the mother, with sorrow wild, "Help!" cried the mother, with sorrow wild.

"Help me, sir knight, to seek my child!" The hungry wolves in the forest roam; Help me to bring my lost one home!

He shook her hand from his bridle rein, "Alas! poor mother, you ask in vain; Some nearer succor will do, maybe; Some squire or valet of low degree; There are mighty wrongs in the world to right, I keep my sword for a noble fight; I am not at heart for your baby's fate, But I ride in haste to do something great."

One wintry night, when the sun was set, A blind old man by the way he met; "Now, good sir knight, for our lady's sake, On a slightest wanderer ply take!"

The wind blows cold and the sun is down, Lead me, I pray, till I reach the town. "Nay," said the knight, "I cannot wait; I ride in haste to do something great."

So on he rode in his armor bright, His sword all keen for the longest fight.

"Laugh with us, laugh!" cried the merry crowd, "Oh, weep!" wailed others, with sorrow bowed.

"Help us!" the weak and weary prayed, But for joy, nor grief, nor need he stayed, And the years rolled on and his eyes grew dim.

And he died—and none made moan for him.

He missed the good that he might have done, He missed the blessings he might have won;

Seeking some glorious task to find, His eyes to all humbler work were blind, He that is faithful in that which is least is hidden to sit at the heavenly feast; Yet men and women lament their fate, If they be not called to do something great.

George and Mary Washington.

The immortality of Washington's fame will be testified to by the universal observance of his birthday next Wednesday, February 22.

Mary, a beautiful, intelligent, and very silent, nature, and made, through him, all future Virginia women her debtors.

The Mary Ball Washington home, purchased by her shortly after she became a widow, and located at Fredericksburg, Va., belongs, through the generosity of their president in securing it, to a State organization of women, the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, who keep it as a place of great historical interest, toward which the footsteps of many American women annually turn. Here Mrs. Washington received a visit from General Lafayette in 1784, and here she saw the Father of his Country for the last time.

When Mary Ball Washington died in 1788, she was buried by a rocky crag at "Kenmore," the estate of her son-in-law, Colonel Fielding Lewis, which she herself desired as a suitable location. The women of America have placed a suitable monument to mark her last resting place.

At the Woman's Club.

Tomorrow being the Monday nearest Washington's birthday, Judge L. L. Lewis has been prevailed upon to improve the acquaintance of the club ladies with the "Virginia Signers of the Declaration of Independence."

Mrs. Charles M. Ferrall will be chairman of the day. The hour of meeting will be half-past 4 P. M. It was hoped that Mrs. Ferrall's father, Colonel Robert White, of West Virginia, would be at the club to-morrow, but that pleasure has been deferred until later in the week, when Colonel White will be Mrs. Ferrall's guest.

On Thursday evening next, February 22, promptly at 8:15 o'clock, the monthly whist tournament will be played at the club. Members are entitled to invite gentlemen partners, or may play with other members of the club. They are expected to select their partners in advance.

Attractive Home Wedding.

At "Piedmont," the home of the bride, in Orange county, Va., Miss Elizabeth Sutton Jones was married at noon, February 18th, to Mr. Graham Rogers Holly, of Stamford, Conn. The service of the Episcopal Church was impressively read by the Rev. Parnell Le Bas Cross.

The house was beautifully decorated with running cedar, laurel and ferns. These were combined in the drawing room with bride roses; in the dining room, with red carnations, and in the hall with yellow Jonquills.

Miss Jones wore an exquisite gown of hand-embroidered white crepe de chine and a long tulle veil fastened by an old pearl brooch which had belonged to her mother.

After the ceremony a breakfast was served to relatives and friends present, among whom were Mrs. Howard Kyle and Miss Alice Volney Kyle, of Homestead, Pa.; Miss Susan M. Jones, of Baltimore, Md.; and Mrs. E. G. Leigh, Jr., of Richmond, Va.; Mr. W. F. Jones and Miss Helen Jones, of Rapidan; Mrs. Heath Dabney, and Miss Alice Davis, University of Virginia; Mr. Birdwell, of New York; Miss Moore, of Fairfax, Va.; Mr. George Shackelford, Mr. Richard Borton, Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Holladay, Mrs. Conway, Misses Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Conway, the Misses Grinnam, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Breece, the Misses Hakey, Messrs. Talferro and Miss Talferro, of Orange; Miss Tyler, of Williamsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Farnival, Mr. Thomas Peyton, Mr. Henry Warren and Mr. Joseph Wilmer, all of Rapidan.

The bride is the second daughter of the late Philip B. Jones and his wife, Betie Morris Jones, and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the State to whom she is endeared by rare social gifts and many virtues of mind and heart. The groom is an official in a large insurance company located in Boston.

In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Holly left for an extended bridal tour, and will be at home after March 1st in Brookline, Massachusetts.

Talented Young Musician.

Since it has become known that so talented a young musician as Mr. John

II. Powell is going to gratify the desire of the Richmond public by giving a recital in the Woman's Club audience rooms on Friday evening next, many interesting things have been told of his precocity and of how the promise of his early childhood has already been more than fulfilled, though he is still so young.

Mr. Powell, who is the youngest child of the late John H. and Rebecca Leigh Powell, is descended, on his mother's side, from a long line of musical ancestors. As a baby he was never so happy as when listening to music. He sang the airs he heard before he could talk; at eighteen months he picked them out on the piano with one finger; at three, and at four composed his first "pieces." Being a delicate child, he was not taught anything until he reached eight years of age, when he began to study music with his sister, Mrs. Brockenhough, and was sent to school. Later, Professor F. C. Hahr, undertook his musical education, and showed by his faithful interest in the boy his careful training, his ennobling influence, and the moulding of his tastes and ambitions on a lofty plane, that he was in every way worthy of the task entrusted to him.

After taking his B. A. at the University of Virginia, Mr. Powell went to Vienna to continue his musical studies under the world-renowned Leschetzki, and was most favorably received by the great master, with whom he remained two years, working faithfully in this musical atmosphere, surrounded by the best known musicians of the day. He is again in Richmond for a while, and by the appreciation shown him here it is evident that Richmond is not behind Vienna in appreciating genius.

Friday's recital will be under the patronage of the following ladies, from whom tickets can be obtained: Mrs. James W. Allison, Mrs. Archer Anderson, Mrs. Decatur Axtell, Mrs. William H. Adams, Mrs. Henry Banker, Mrs. H. Adams, Mrs. Branch, Mrs. A. B. Guilgon, John Kerr, Branch, Mrs. F. C. Hahr, Mrs. John Hunter, Mrs. L. L. Lewis, Mrs. A. J. Montague, Mrs. Clarence Millhiser, Mrs. T. William Pemberton, Miss Jane M. Rutherford, Miss Frances B. Scott, Mrs. N. R. Savage, Mrs. Joseph E. Willard, Mrs. Edward J. Willis, Mrs. Francis D. Williams, Miss Louise Williams.

Tickets can also be procured at W. D. Moses's and from the Cable Company; at the Bell Book and Stationery Company or the Woman's Club.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. Eugenia Slaughter announces the engagement of her daughter, Sadie Patton, to Mr. William Bain Sildow, Commonwealth's attorney of Giles county.

The marriage, a widespread matter of interest, will take place in the Episcopal Church at Barroville, Orange county, February 24th.

Card of Thanks.

The ladies of the Masonic Home Auxiliary wish to express their thanks and grateful appreciation to all the kind friends who assisted in making the sale at the Temple such a success.

Chapter Entertained.

The Commonwealth Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock by Mrs. William E. Evans, of No. 11 North Sixth Street.

Judge L. L. Lewis was introduced by Dr. Evans and made an address, most appropriate to the Revolutionary period and of the greatest interest to chapter members, who heard it with enthusiastic applause.

Afterward Dr. Evans gave a brief account of the American flag, and Mr. Charles Cook sang, as a solo, with great feeling and expression, "The Star Spangled Banner."

The dining room was beautiful in its Revolutionary decorations. Red and white roses, in cut glass vases, adorned the table, resting on handsome lace. Red wax candles, in silver candleabra, made the pretty illumination. A delicious collation was served, and the chapter felt that it was indebted to Mrs. Evans for an afternoon of rare enjoyment. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, Judge and Mrs. L. L. Lewis, Miss Jane Rutherford, Miss Helen Montague, Miss Preedy, Mrs. William H. Nelson, Mrs. John W. Southall, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. E. T. Robinson, Mrs. Dallen Barkesdale, Mrs. Charles M. Fernald, Mrs. Charles Bush, Mrs. James B. Pace, Miss Constance Evans, Miss Bosseux, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Chambers and others.

Beautiful Celebration.

Miss Conway Christian Fleming, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fleming, celebrated her birthday last week and entertained a number of her young friends in beautiful fashion, at a heart and archery contest.

The house was charmingly decorated in red carnations with hearts, big and little, put everywhere that hearts ought to be in artistic arrangement. Cupids played "hide and seek" among the hearts, and souvenirs for guests were hand-painted heart boxes, filled with preserves.

Receiving with the young hostess were Misses Genevieve Lathrop, Mary McFadden, Frances Wheat and Katherine Sinton. In the game of "progressive hearts" girls who gave out "progressers" were Miss Natalie McFadden and Miss Lewis Warren. Miss Elsie Parrish won the first prize, Miss Mary Saunders, the second, and Miss Fanny Doswell Tyler was consoling.

Others present were Miss Emily Montague, Miss Gertrude Christian, Miss Eleanor Wingfield, Miss Kate Taylor, Miss Margaret Wadley, Miss Carrie Wadley, Miss Gwatkins, Miss Mary Johnson, Miss Mary McCaw, Miss Gwendolyn Rutherford, Miss Rosalie Valentine, Miss Anita West, Miss Minnie Archer, Miss Camilla Wells, Miss Edith Donnan, Miss Alston Drake, Miss Florence Lacy, Miss Sinton, Miss Katherine Gunn, Miss Imogen Riddick, Miss Norah Randolph, Miss Nancy Watson, Miss Lulu Johnston, Miss Caroline Preston, Miss Evelyn Byrd, Miss Virginia Tyler, Miss Chloe Cooke, Miss Mary Lewis, Miss Emma Brown, Miss Nannie Patton, Miss Katherine Rhoads, Miss Lois Richardson, Miss Lucy Beveridge, Miss Eliza Christian, Miss J. Peyton Rogers, Miss Cordie Taylor, Miss Gay Montague, Miss Mary Boyd and Miss Cary Valentine.

Oyster Supper.

The ladies of Ashbury Place Church Arsonage Society will serve an oyster supper at No. 115 Hanover Street next Tuesday evening, February 21st, at 8 P. M. The proceeds will be devoted to a good cause, and the ladies hope to be well patronized.

Musical attractions of the evening will include selections rendered by the West End Angels.

Valentine Tea.

The Thursday Card Club was given a delightful Valentine tea in the home of Dr. R. A. Brock, No. 517 West Marshall Street, Tuesday evening, February 14th.

Handsome decorations were in Valentine colors, many hearts comprising the Valentine idea. At the close of the game delicious refreshments were served, ices being in heart shapes. Mr. Robert S. Philfer added greatly to the pleasure of the company by giving a series of solos.

These solos at cards were Mrs. Marshall, Mr. Widner and Mr. Mosby, Club members include Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Brock, Mr. and Mrs. W. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fullam, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Byrd, Misses Mary Sue Dew, Eliza Mosby, Elizabeth Norvell, Emma Perkins, Mary Fitzhugh, Elizabeth Brock, Ann Brock, Mesdames V. G. Mosby, H. B. Fitzhugh, Messrs.
